

Himalayan Forest Research Institute, Shimla Celebrated Constitution Day on 26th November, 2022

Himalayan Forest Research Institute Shimla celebrated Constitution Day on 26th November, 2022 in the Institute. In the starting the oath of the preamble of the constitution was taken. On this occasion, Sh. Yashwant Singh Chogal, Retired Judge and Member, Himachal Pradesh State Regulatory Commission delivered a lecture on the topic "Constitutional Values and Fundamental Principles". He informed about the background of Constitution and Constitution Day. He told that our fundamental rights and duties are included in the constitution; he said that along with our fundamental rights, we should also be aware of our duties and must discharge our duties honestly. He further told that constitution is supreme; its basic structure cannot be changed. The constitution of India is the largest written constitution in the world; suitable provisions of constitutions of different countries of the world were incorporated in Indian constitution. Dr. Sandeep Sharma, Director Himalayan Forest Research Institute urged everyone to follow the fundamental duties enshrined in the constitution. Dr. Jagdish Singh, Head of the Division, Extension Division said that the fundamental rights in the constitution are not unlimited; care should be taken that our fundamental rights shall not violate and infringe life of others. Sh Rajender Pal Bhatia, talked about the Dr. Bheem Rao Ambedkar. On this occasion, around 80 people including scientists, officers, staff and project staff participated in the programme.

Few Glimpse of the day

